

1 DECISION

2 At issue in these consolidated cases are

- 3 • whether during voluntary bargaining and/or during the
- 4 Mandatory Mediation and Conciliation (MMC) process,
- 5 Arnaudo Brothers, LP, and Arnaudo Brothers, Inc.
- 6 (Respondents) failed to bargain in good faith regarding second-
- 7 year contract wages with Charging Party United Farmworkers
- 8 of America (UFW) from about November 2014 to April 2015; and
- 9
- 10 • whether Respondents failed to bargain in good faith with UFW
- 11 by on or about April 2016, adopting a medical plan without first
- 12 notifying and bargaining with UFW.

13 On the record as a whole and after consideration of briefs¹ filed by all
14 parties to this proceeding, the following findings of fact and conclusions of law 15 are made.

16 Background Factual Findings

17 Respondents are located in and around Tracy, California including in the 18 San Joaquin Delta where they have traditionally grown and harvested canning 19 tomatoes, asparagus, alfalfa and field corn.² Respondents have previously been 20 found to be an agricultural employer³ within the meaning of Section 1140.4(c) of 21 the Agricultural Labor Relations Act (the Act).⁴ Despite the denial in their answer

⁴ Cal Labor Code sec. 1140 et seq.

1 to complaint herein that they are an agricultural employer, it is found that
2 Respondents constitute an agricultural employer.⁵

4 The parties agree and it is found that UFW is a labor organization within 5 the meaning of the Act.⁶ UFW was certified as the exclusive collective-
6 bargaining representative of Respondents' agricultural employees in San Joaquin
7 County on January 14, 1977.⁷

9 In 2002, the Act was amended to provide, under certain circumstances, for 10 mediation following certification of a labor organization in order to set the terms
11 of the initial collective-bargaining agreement.⁸ The mediation process is known 12 as Mandatory Mediation and Conciliation or MMC.⁹ On February 13, 2013, the 13 Board referred UFW and Respondents to the MMC process.¹⁰ The eventual 14 result, set forth in a September 12, 2014 supplemental mediator's report,¹¹ was a

22 ⁵ The term "agricultural employer" is liberally construed to include corporate growers acting
23 directly or indirectly in relation to an agricultural employee. Although Respondents denied 24 much of the complaint allegation that they were an agricultural employer, they admit in their 25 September 13, 2017 answer that they have their principal place of business in Tracy,
26 California, where they are engaged in growing various agricultural commodities. Sec.
27 1140.4(a) and (c) of the Act.
28 ⁶ In its answer to the complaint, Respondents admit that UFW is a labor organization within the meaning of sec. 1140.4(b) of the Act.

4 The parties filed for review of the supplemental report.¹³ On October 3,
5 2014, the Board dismissed the petitions for review as “premature” and remanded
6 the case to mediator Matthew Goldberg to determine the second-year contract
7 wages of the mediated contract.¹⁴

9 The complaint alleges that thereafter Respondents failed to participate in a 10 telephone call arranged by the mediator or to respond to numerous UFW requests
11 to meet and negotiate.¹⁵ The complaint also alleges that Respondents failed to 12 respond to the UFW’s January 13, 2015 proposal of a 4 percent across-the-board
13 wage raise for the second year of the contract and failed to respond to an attempt 14 by the mediator to schedule a further mediation session.¹⁶
15
17

18 On February 15, 2018, the parties exchanged all exhibits pursuant to an 19 agreement as to their authenticity and admissibility. On February 27, 2018, the 20 parties submitted all factual stipulations relevant to the issues in this case.
21
23

24 ¹² In the initial report of May 13, 2014, the mediator decided the duration of the contract
25 should be one year. See Jt Ex 1. After a June 27, 2014 remand, reported at (2014) 40 ALRB
26 No. 7, (see Stip 6) on September 12, 2014, the mediator’s supplemental report added an 27 additional year to the contract duration and ordered the parties to meet and confer about the 28 second-year wage rate. Stip. 8; Jt Ex 2, p. 9, R0080.

1 Finally, the parties waived a hearing and requested a decision on the stipulated
2 record. The stipulation of facts is approved and General Counsel exhibits 1-8 and 4 the stipulated record is also approved.

8 Facts

10 Following the October 3, 2014 remand to mediator Goldberg, the parties'
11 first contact was on November 10, 2014, when mediator Goldberg sent an email
12 to Mario Martinez (Martinez) and Edgar Aguilasocho (Aguilasocho), counsel for 13 UFW, copying Robert Carrol (Carrol), counsel for Respondents. Mediator
14 Goldberg asked if the UFW was still interested in pursuing the remanded
15 matter.¹⁷
16

17
18 Martinez responded to all "Yes, of course. We need to finalize the terms of 19 the contract between the parties."¹⁸ Mediator Goldberg quickly queried all
20 parties, including Carrol, "Have you spoken to Rob [Carrol]?"¹⁹ There is no
21 record of a response from Carrol.²⁰
22
23

24
25 ¹⁷ Stip 11, GC Ex 5 at Bates Stamp GC0018. The email time was shown as 12:26 p.m.

¹⁸ Stip 12, GC Ex 5 at Bates Stamp GC0018. Martinez' email was sent at 12:40 p.m.

26 ¹⁹ GC Ex 5 GC0017-0018; Mediator Goldberg's query to all parties shows it was sent at 1:11
27 p.m. The parties agree that these emails are introduced not for the truth of the matters asserted therein. Thus, it is noted that these emails constitute exclusions from the hearsay rule.

28 ²⁰ The parties also note that a November 10, 2014, 4:14 pm responsive email from Martinez to Mediator Goldberg has not been authenticated. See GC Ex 5, Bates Stamp GC0017: "Lupe has made repeated requests to meet and bargain with Rob over the wage issue, but he has not confirmed any meeting with UFW for the purpose of resolving this issue." Circumstantial

1 On November 10, 2014, UFW Vice-President Armando Elenes (Elenes)
2 started a separate email string when he sent an email to Carrol: “Hi Rob, Can we 3 arrange a call to resolve the Arnaudo 2nd year wage issues that is pending? Rather 4 resolve voluntarily and save both ourselves a day of mediation.”²¹ Elenes
5 followed up using his original November 10, 2014, email with another email to 6 Carrol on November 24, 2014, “Hi Rob, Have not heard back from you. We 7 would like to know when we can discuss.”²² On December 1, 2014, Elenes added
8 another email to the string stating, “Hi Rob, Still waiting to hear from you....this 9 is now my 3rd request for a time to discuss and resolve this issue.”²³ On 10 December 11, 2014, Elenes added another email to the string to Carrol stating,
11 “This is my 4th request for a response....are you now refusing to negotiate??”²⁴
12 There is no record of a response from Carrol to any of these emails.
13

18 On January 13, 2015,²⁵ Carrol and Elenes spoke by telephone. During the 19 conversation, Elenes proposed a 4 percent across-the-board wage increase for the

22
23 evidence does not assist in authentication of this email. Although it appears in a chain of 24 emails, all of them between Mediator Goldberg, Martinez, Carrol, and others, Mediator
25 Goldberg responded to Martinez, GC Ex 5, Bates Stamp GC0017 at 7:32 p.m. on January 21, 26 2015, stating, “You appear to be correct [that Martinez responded to the 12:26 email of 27 November 10, 2014]. However, I have no record of your last (4:14 pm) email of November 28 10.” Thus, due to lack of authentication, the 4:14 p.m. email of November 10, 2014, apparently sent by Martinez to Mediator Goldberg and Carrol, among other recipients, will not be considered.

²¹ Stip 13, GC Ex 1 at Bates Stamp GC0011. This email shows it was sent at 3:56 p.m.

²² Stip 14, GC Ex 2 at Bates Stamp CG0012. This email shows it was sent at 6:50 p.m.

1 second year of the contract. Carrol told Elenes that he would discuss the proposal
2 with his clients and get back to Elenes.²⁶

4 On January 21, Carrol responded to an email begun earlier that day. He 5 addressed, among others, Elenes, Martinez, and Mediator Goldberg. The subject
6 line stated, “Re: Arnaudo Bros. 2013-MMC-001; request for case status>>.”

8 Carrol’s response stated:

10 HOLA, Colegas, from Day#2 of the long-delayed Ace Tomato MW 11 Hearing here in scenic Modesto, CA. Even though the Union even 12 longer ago (32+ years) clearly disclaimed interest in negotiating for or 13 otherwise engaging in ANY representational (or any other) activities
14 on behalf of bargaining unit, the Company has made a “special 15 appearance” in this proceeding and has NEVER refused to do
16 anything regarding wage rates. Indeed, as I told Mr. Elenes recently, I 17 will meet with the 91 and 85 year-old Company principals at our 18 earliest mutually convenient time to ascertain what hourly rate they 19 would be agreeable to paying to employees returning to work in their 20 annual 9-week asparagus harvest (when they employ a “peak” of 21 approximately 120 folks) likely beginning around March 21st and 22 ending in the last week of May and report back to Mr. Elenes. Saludos

24

25 Following the above January 21 email from Carrol, later that same day, 26
27 Martinez responded to Carrol’s email copying Elenes and Mediator Goldberg, as 28 well as ALRB personnel. Martinez requested, inter alia, that the ALRB order
29 Respondents to meet and bargain within the next 14 days.²⁸ Later that day,

1 Martinez emailed Carrol and various ALRB representatives including the 2 Board's Acting Executive Secretary (AES), requesting Board intervention
3 immediately.²⁹

5 Also on January 21, the AES of the ALRB sent three emails to the parties.
6 The AES requested that Mediator Goldberg "advise concerning the status of the 7 [remanded] matter." Martinez and Carrol, among others, were copied.³⁰ Martinez
8 responded, inter alia, "The employer has refused to meet and bargain with the 9 union concerning wage rates." Later, the AES stated, "I will await a status report 10 from the mediator. Any requests concerning next steps should be directed to [the 11 mediator] in the first instance. Thank you."³¹ Finally, the AES emailed Martinez,
12 Carrol, the mediator, and others, as follows:³²

13
15
16 Labor Code section 1164.3 subdivision (c) appears to contemplate that 17 the mediator will file a report to the Board thus advising the Board of 18 the issues. See also Board regulations, sections 20407 and 20408. The 19 same conclusion can be drawn from the Board's Decision and Order 20 in 40 ALRB No. 9 (see order, at pp. 5-6.) In short, the matter is with 21 the mediator and the parties.

22 If you desire Board intervention at this juncture, please file a motion
23 complying with the Board's regulations that I can transmit to the 24 Board.

³² Stip 20, GC Ex 5, Bates Stamp GC0020. This email was sent at 2:56 p.m.

1 Following the above emails from the AES, still on January 21, Mediator
2 Goldberg sent an email to the AES and the parties, including Martinez, Elenes,
3 and Carrol, stating, in part, that on November 10, 2014, he sent an email to 4 Martinez asking if the UFW was “still interested in pursuing this matter? If not,
5 please advise.” Mediator Goldberg stated that he had heard nothing from the 6 parties since sending that email and he assumed the case had been withdrawn or 7 resolved. Mediator Goldberg advised the parties that if they wanted to proceed,
8 “we should begin to attempt to schedule a convenient date and time.”³³
10
11

12 On the following day, January 22, Mediator Goldberg, via email to 13 Martinez, Carrol, and others, proposed February 23 as the date to proceed.³⁴
14 Martinez responded to all on January 24, requesting an earlier date and seeking 15 an Order from the mediator for bargaining to begin within the next 10 calendar
16 days.³⁵
17
18

19 Emails continued on January 24, with the mediator letting the parties, 20 including Martinez, Elenes, and Carrol, know that February 23 was his earliest 21 available date.³⁶ Martinez responded to all on January 24, accepting the 22 February 23 date. Martinez again requested that, in the interim, Respondents be

2 on January 24 stating, inter alia:

4 “[A]t present, the Company attorney is not available on February 23rd
5 (due to preparation for an NLRB RC/ULP case in Fresno), however, if 6 still necessary, will notify our esteemed Mandatory Mediator and the 7 parties should that date open up.”³⁸

8 Further, on January 24, Carrol sent a text message to Elenes to tell him that 9 he hoped to get in touch with him about the subject of the wage rates on 10 January 26.³⁹ Elenes “sent messages” to Carrol to follow up on January 29,
11 February 4, February 11, and March 10 asking for a response to the UFW’s wage
12 proposal.⁴⁰ There is no record of any response to Elenes from Carrol.

14 On January 25, Mediator Goldberg advised all parties that, at a minimum, 15 they should confer by telephone as soon as practicable to determine whether they 16 could reach agreement on a 2015 wage rate. Mediator Goldberg also queried
17 whether the UFW had made a demand and whether Respondents had offered a

4 On March 24, Mediator Goldberg informed the parties that he had 5 contacted Carrol that morning and that Carrol was in the process of verifying
6 with Respondents that he was authorized to speak for them. Mediator Goldberg
7 stated that the parties should schedule a conference call within the next 3 days,
8 i.e., March 25-27.⁴³ Martinez responded that he was available on 2 of the next 3
9 days and that Elenes could fill in if needed when Martinez was not available.⁴⁴
10 Elenes stated via email that he was available during each of the next 3 days.⁴⁵

15 On March 25, Mediator Goldberg sent an email to Carrol, copying

18 parties, including Carrol, Martinez, and Elenes, on March 25 stating that Carrol

4 On March 26, the parties held a conference call with Mediator Goldberg to 5 discuss the subject of the wage rates for the second year of the MMC contract.

6 During the conference call, the UFW and Respondents took positions on wages.⁴⁹

8 After March 26, the UFW and Respondents were unable to reach a voluntary
9 agreement over the wage rates for the second year of the MMC contract.⁵⁰
10

11 On April 2, Respondents and the UFW each submitted their respective 12 positions on the wage rates for the second year of the MMC contract to Mediator
13 Goldberg so that he could submit a final MMC report to the Board.⁵¹
14

15 The mediator submitted his final report on April 6, 2015⁵² recommending
16 a 4 percent increase and requiring Respondents to pay its agricultural employees
17 all of the wages due to them as a result of the Board’s MMC remand.⁵³ The

4 Analysis

5 As the Board has stated,⁵⁷

7 It is well-established that both parties in a collective bargaining
8 relationship have mutual obligations to actively participate in the 9 bargaining process. [citation omitted] While the union must institute 10 the bargaining process by initially requesting negotiations, the 11 employer may not passively sit by, forcing the union to continually 12 renew its requests to meet and to proceed with negotiations. The 13 employer also has an affirmative obligation to make arrangements for 14 meetings once the union has initiated the process. Here, at the 15 conclusion of the October 30, 1980, meeting, it was incumbent upon 16 Respondent to respond to the Union's new proposal and thereby
17 permit the Union to decide whether further meetings or new proposals
18 were necessary. Respondent's failure to respond until December 10, 19 when it indicated that it was unlikely that a new contract could be 20 negotiated unless the Union was willing to make new proposals,
21 constitutes evidence that Respondent was not taking its bargaining
22 obligation as seriously as it should have.

23 During the entire period from November 10, 2014, the date the mediator
24 asked the parties if they wanted to continue the MMC process to March 25, 2015, 25 the date the mediator obtained Carrol's agreement to a conference call on the 26 following day, the parties were covered by the MMC process. The complaint
27 alleges that bad faith bargaining occurred as part of the MMC process, i.e.,

1 during mediator consultations, as well as during voluntary activity, that is,
2 activity set apart from the MMC process.

4 The voluntary discussions will be treated first. They were initiated by 5 Elenes' emails to Carrol asking if they could bargain the second-year wage rates
6 themselves "to save both ourselves a day of mediation." In all of the contacts,
7 Elenes requested bargaining. The contacts consist of four November/December
8 2014 emails from Elenes to Carrol, one January 13, 2015 telephone conversation
9 between Elenes and Carrol in which Carrol promised but did not get back to 10 Elenes on his four percent wage increase proposal, and four 11 January/February/March messages from Elenes to Carrol.
12
14

15 There is no evidence that Carrol responded to Elenes' emails, to Elenes'
16 telephone bargaining proposal, or to the four subsequent messages from Elenes.
17 Moreover, during the November 10, 2014 to March 25, 2015 time period, there is 18 no evidence that any agent of Respondents contacted UFW about bargaining or 19 made a counterproposal to the UFW's four percent wage proposal. Thus, during 20 the period from November 10, 2014 to March 25, 2015, Respondent ignored the 21 UFW's requests to bargain.
22
24

25 This course of conduct constitutes bad faith bargaining. The preponderance 26 of the evidence indicates that Respondents did not respond to any efforts of the 27 UFW to negotiate from November 10, 2014 to March 25, 2015. Refusal to 28

1 respond to requests to meet at reasonable times for a period of months runs afoul
2 of the duty to bargain in good faith.⁵⁸ Refusal to provide a counteroffer to a 3 bargaining proposal is evidence of bad faith.⁵⁹ These evasive delaying tactics are 4 inconsistent with the duty to bargain in good faith.⁶⁰ Thus, it is found that from 5 November 10, 2014 to March 25, 2015, by delaying bargaining by refusing to 6 respond to phone calls, texts, and a bargaining proposal, Respondent violated
7 section 1153(a) and (e) of the ALRB.

10
11 Within the MMC process, the complaint alleges that Respondents' actions
12 in failing to participate in a telephone call attempted by the mediator⁶¹ and failing
13 to respond to an attempt by the mediator to schedule a further mediation session⁶²
14 constitute bad faith bargaining. Having found that Respondent bargained in bad
15 faith through its voluntary actions outside the MMC process, the complaint
16 allegations relating solely to MMC conduct might be considered subsumed in the 17 "voluntary" rationale above. However, were analysis of conduct during the MMC

1 process required, it would be informed by strong policy concerns warranting a 2 finding that the duty to bargain in good faith extends to all parties' actions during 3 the MMC process.

5 In 2002, the legislature amended the ALRB to add the MMC process "to 6 ensure a more effective collective-bargaining process."⁶³ "This expression of 7 legislative intent, along with the language of the statute itself, demonstrates that 8 the statute was designed as a mechanism to jump start collective bargaining 9 relationships, where, in specified circumstances, the parties have been unable to 10 reach agreement on their own."⁶⁴
12

13
14 The MMC process of the Act provides for binding mediation under certain 15 circumstances where the parties have been unable to reach a collective-16 bargaining agreement.⁶⁵ In broad terms, if the mediation process does not result 17 in resolution of all issues to the mutual satisfaction of the parties, the mediator
18 certifies that the mediation process has been exhausted.⁶⁶ Once this certification 19 issues, the mediator essentially becomes an arbitrator for purposes of determining

26 ⁶⁵ Initially mandatory mediation and conciliation was effective by amendment of the Act on 27 January 1, 2002. This initial mandatory mediation and conciliation provision was further 28 amended effective January 1, 2004, and January 12, 2012. In Gerawan Farming, Inc., (2017)
405 P.3d 1087, 3 Cal. 5th 1118, the California Supreme Court upheld the MMC provisions of the Act.

⁶⁶ See Sec. 1164(a)-(c) of the Act.

1 the actual terms of the collective-bargaining agreement.⁶⁷ Through this process of 2 “interest arbitration,”⁶⁸ the mediator then issues a report establishing the terms of 3 a collective-bargaining agreement.⁶⁹ There is no provision in the MMC statute or 4 regulations that would warrant a finding that is the sole, exclusive avenue for 5 resolving bargaining issues. Moreover, there is no evidence in the MMC statute
6 or regulations which indicates that it is pre-emptive of voluntary negotiations.

9 The Legislature’s explanation for the MMC statute is found in its 10 Preamble. There the Legislature stated:⁷⁰
11

12 The Legislature finds and declares that a need exists for a mediation
13 procedure in order to ensure a more effective collective bargaining
14 process between agricultural employers and agricultural employees,
15 and thereby more fully attain the purposes of the Agricultural Labor
16 Relations Act, ameliorate the working conditions and economic 17 standing of agricultural employees, create stability in the agricultural 18 labor force, and promote California's economic well-being by 19 ensuring stability in its most vital industry.

20 Thus, to implement this expression of legislative intent, the legislature
21 “creat[ed] a mechanism to jump start negotiations that have not been productive

28 arbitration process”)

⁷⁰ 2002, ch. 1145 §1; See also, D’Arrigo Bros. Co. of California, (2007) 33 ALRB No. 1, pp. 6-7, relying on the Preamble to find legislative intent to “jump start” unproductive negotiations.

1 for specified periods after certification of the union.”⁷¹ The legislature noted that
2 effective collective bargaining was a backdrop to ensure stability in California’s
3 “most vital industry.” Surely such legislative history visualized that once the 4 parties were encompassed within the MMC process, the precepts of bargaining in 5 good faith would guide their actions.

8 Not unsurprisingly, however, the parties disagree fundamentally regarding 9 this aspect of analysis of the facts. Without benefit of reference to the duty to 10 bargain in good faith, Respondents argue that while the parties are within the 11 MMC process, the mediator controls all transactions and any delay is attributable 12 to the mediator.
13

15 Thus, Respondents view the entire period from November 10, 2014
16 to April 1, 2015, as encompassed within the MMC process and not properly
17 analyzed under the traditional duty to bargain in good faith. Respondents contend 18 that the parties worked under the auspices of the mediator and it is he who 19 controlled the entire procedure and is responsible for the passage of time.
20

22 Respondents first note that the mediator mistakenly believed from November 10, 23 2014, until January 21, 2015, that the parties were not interested in pursuing the 24 MMC process. This mistake accounted for all of the delay until January 21, 2015.
25
26

27
28 ⁷¹ Id., 33 ALRB No. 1 at p. 6.

1 It was not until January 24, 2015, that the mediator understood his mistake and 2 proposed a date for mediation. The date proposed, February 23, 2015, was the 3 mediator's first available date. Carrol responded immediately that he was not 4 available.

6 Thereafter, Respondents note that they were not ordered to bargain with 7 UFW or to provide any additional dates. Rather, the mediator told the parties they 8 should confer by phone to see if they could agree to wages. Although UFW
9 sought Board assistance by asking for an order requiring UFW to bargain, the 10 Board issued an order requiring that a mediation report issue by April 15, 2015.
11 On March 26, the parties conferred by phone but could not reach agreement. The 12 mediator's report issued on April 6.
13
15

16 This argument assumes, then, that the MMC process itself insulates an 17 employer from the duty to bargain in good faith. Respondents do not offer any 18 citation of authority to this effect. In any event, Respondents argue that 19 throughout November 2014 to April 2015, the mediator had full control over the 20 mediation and the mediator did not pursue the matter diligently.
21

23 Respondents claim, utilizing this analysis, that the evidence does not 24 indicate that Respondents committed any of the acts alleged in the complaint.
25 They did not fail to respond to a wage proposal [within the MMC process], they 26 did not refuse to participate in a phone conference organized by the mediator, and 27
28

1 they did not refuse to respond to the mediator’s request to schedule a mediation
2 session.

4 The General Counsel and the UFW, on the other hand, argue that the duty
5 to bargain in good faith applies to interactions during the MMC process. The 6 General Counsel asserts, “The Board has made clear that the duty to bargain in 7 good faith continues during the pendency of a MMC Process. (Gerawan
8 Farming,, Inc. (2018) 44 ALRB No. 1.)” It is true that in Gerawan, the Board
9 agreed that bargaining might proceed on a voluntary basis contemporaneous with 10 MMC proceedings. However, it is not entirely clear that Gerawan definitely 11 answers the question framed by the complaint herein: that is, whether there is a 12 statutory duty to bargain in good faith while within the MMC process.
13
15

16 That is because the Board did not definitively hold that the duty to bargain
17 in good faith continues throughout the internal transactions within the MMC
18 process. Rather, the Board rejected Gerawan’s argument that the ALJ erred in 19 relying on evidence from the parties’ MMC proceedings to support his findings
20 of bad faith. The Board found that because Gerawan failed to identify any 21 evidence from the MMC proceedings which was relied upon by the ALJ to 22 support this argument, there was no merit to Gerawan’s argument. Id., 44 ALRB
23 No. 1 at fn. 7. The Board added,
24
25
26
27

28 ///

1 Moreover, the ALJ recognized that the unfair labor practice
2 allegations in this case pertain to “voluntary” negotiations that 3 occurred during the 2013 timeframe, using the “voluntary” modifier to 4 refer to those negotiations that took place outside of the context of 5 MMC and without the presence of a mediator. (ALJD, p. 13.) The 6 ALJ further noted that, “[a]part from a few overlapping exhibits, little,
7 if any, evidence was adduced concerning the bargaining that occurred
8 under the auspices of the mediator.”

9 Perhaps, then, Gerawan indicates, albeit in dicta, that the duty to bargain in 10 good faith applies during “voluntary” bargaining which occurs at the same time
11 as MMC proceedings. Gerawan, however, does not appear to indicate one way or 12 the other whether the duty to bargain in good faith applies to communications 13 within the MMC proceedings. Were it necessary to make such a finding, as 14 indicated above, strong policy considerations would require a finding that parties
15 must comport with the duty to bargain in good faith while engaged in the MMC 16 process.
17

18 Thus, within the MMC process, following the Board’s October 3, 2014
19 remand to the mediator, Respondents’ counsel did not reply to the mediator’s 20 emails of November 10, 2014, which asked all counsel if they were interested in 21 pursuing the remanded matter. Similarly, on January 22, 2015, the mediator
22 proposed February 23 to resolve the second-year wage issue. Although UFW
23 immediately agreed to this mediation date, Carrol stated he was unavailable due 24 to preparation for an unspecified NLRB matter and did not offer anything further.
25
26
27
28

1 There can be no doubt that Respondents’ actions within the MMC process,
2 evince an attitude of inattention, -- failing for months to respond to emails,
4 delaying promised responses, refusing to commit to meetings requested by the 5 mediator, and in general showing no intention of a desire to negotiate – much less 6 reach agreement on second-year contract wages. Thus, assuming a duty to 7 bargain in good faith applies to the parties during the MMC process, Respondent
8 did not comply with the law.

11 Alleged Unilateral Change by Implementing Health Plan Without 12 Notice or Opportunity to Bargain

13 Facts

14 In approximately April 2016, Respondents offered a medical plan to their 15 agricultural employees for the purpose of complying with the requirements of the 16 Affordable Care Act.⁷² The Respondents did not notify the UFW prior to offering
17 the health plan nor did they offer to bargain with the UFW over the health plan
18 that was offered to the employees.⁷³ Prior to implementing the health plan, 19 Respondents did not offer a medical plan to their employees nor were they 20 required to do so under the terms of the MMC contract.⁷⁴

1 Analysis

2 The complaint alleges that this conduct violates Section 1153(a) and (e).⁷⁵

4 The Act requires that an employer provide notice and bargain, on request, in 5 good faith with the representative of its employees when altering a mandatory
6 subject of bargaining.⁷⁶ Unilateral action harms the process of collective 7 bargaining itself and minimizes the influence of organized bargaining by 8 interfering with the right of self-organization, emphasizing to employees that 9 there is no necessity for a bargaining representative.⁷⁷

10
12 Employee health care is a mandatory subject of bargaining.⁷⁸ It is well 13 established that an employer who is compelled to make changes in terms and 14 conditions of employment in order to comply with the mandates of another 15 statute must nevertheless provide its employees' representative with notice and 16

19 _____
20 ⁷⁵ Respondents' brief at p. 10 sets forth a statute of limitations argument based on 21 implementation dates of November 11, 2015 and December 10, 2015. However, the parties'
22 stipulation of facts states that the medical plan was implemented in April 2016. April 2016 is 23 nine months prior to the filing of the charge in Case 2017-CE-003-VIS. Thus, the charge in 24 Case 2017-CE-003-VIS filed on February 7, 2017, is timely for unilateral changes
25 commencing August 7, 2016, a date six months prior to the charge. The health care changes
26 continued into the six-month limitations period. Thus, it is found that the unilateral 27 implementation of health insurance is a continuing violation, that is, a violation that though
28 initially occurring outside the six month limitations period, continued into the six-month period
29 prior to the filing of the charge. Gourmet Harvesting and Packing Inc., (1988) 14 ALRB No. 9,

1 an opportunity to bargain over the discretionary aspects of the changes.⁷⁹ There is
2 no dispute that Respondent failed to notify UFW prior to implementing the health
3 plan. The Affordable Care Act does not insulate Respondents from the duty to 4 bargain. Thus, it is found that Respondents' failure to notify and provide UFW
5 with an opportunity to bargain over the discretionary aspects of the health care
6 plan prior to implementing its health care plan violates the Act.

9 10 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

- 11 • By failing to respond to UFW efforts to negotiate from 12 November 2014 through April 2015, Respondents violated the 13 duty to bargain in good faith by unreasonably delaying 14 bargaining in violation of Section 1154(a) and (e) of the Act.
- 15 • Were it necessary to make a finding on whether Respondents
16 actions during the MMC process violated the duty to bargain in 17 good faith, it is found that by unreasonably delaying responses
18 to requests to meet, Respondents violated Section 1154(a) and 19 (e) of the Act.
- 20 • By failing to provide the UFW notice and opportunity to 21 bargain regarding implementation of employee health care
22 insurance, Respondents violated Section 1154(a) and (e) of the 23 Act.

1 REMEDY

2 Having concluded that Respondents violated the Act as alleged in the 3 General Counsel’s complaint, they will be ordered to cease and desist from the 4 unlawful conduct and take certain affirmative action to remedy the unlawful 5 conduct.

8 Respondents will be required to mail signed copies of the attached Notice
9 to Agricultural Employees to all agricultural employees, including FLC workers
10 if employed during the period from November 2014 to April 1, 2015.
11

12 Respondents will also be required to grant ALRB agents access to work sites 13 where their agricultural employees are employed at mutually arranged times to 14 provide a reading of the attached Notice outside the presence of supervisory 15 personnel. Following the reading, Respondents’ agricultural employees must be 16 provided a reasonable period of time in which to ask questions of the ALRB
17 agents about the Notice or about their rights under the Act. The time spent during 18 the reading and the question and answer period shall be compensated by 19 Respondents at the employees’ regular hourly rates, or each employee’s average 20 hourly rate based on their piece-rate production during the prior pay period. In 21 addition, Respondents must post the Notice at its work sites for a period of 60 22 days during the period of peak employment; provide access during the period to 23 ALRB agents to ensure compliance with this notice posting requirement; and 24
25
26
27
28

1 provide a signed copy of the Notice to each person it hires for work as an
2 agricultural employee during the twelve-month period following the issuance of 3 the ALRB's order in this case.

5 The General Counsel also proposes that Respondents' supervisory staff be 6 required to attend a training session concerning the rights of agricultural workers
7 under the Act. Given the nature of the violations found here and the fact that 8 there is no evidence that any of Respondents manager and supervisors played any 9 part in the bargaining violations involved here, it is found that this request is 10 unnecessary and bordering on a punitive demand. Accordingly, it is 11 recommended that this remedial request be denied.
12
14

15 Refusal to Bargain in Good Faith

16 The General Counsel requests a bargaining make whole remedy for the 17 period November 10, 2014 continuing through April 1, 2015. The General 18 Counsel claims that Respondents "have continued to refuse to comply with the 19 Board's MMC Order." The General Counsel avers, however, "It is understood
20 that at some point, [Respondents] implemented at least the MMC contract wage 21 rates."
22
23
24

25 The General Counsel then requests a remedy requiring implementation of 26 unspecified "retroactive portions of the MMC Contract. . . ." The General
27 Counsel acknowledges that there was no request to enforce the MMC contract
28

1 within the 60-day MMC time limit and, thus avers that the MMC Contract is a
2 hollow, unenforceable legal obligation. No authority is cited for this request.

4 The unfair labor practice found here is bad faith bargaining regarding wage
5 rates. The parties’ pleadings establish that “Respondent[s] paid the wages
6 established in the mediated contract through December 31, 2015.”⁸⁰ Accordingly,
7 no bargaining make whole relief is required for the specific violation at issue.
8 The remedy here can be no broader than the unfair labor practice found. To hold 9 otherwise would unreasonably conflate this unfair labor practice proceeding with 10 the MMC process and would deny due process to those involved. Thus, no
11 bargaining make whole remedy is recommended for the delay in bargaining
12 regarding second-year contract wage rates.
13
14
15

16 Unilateral Implementation of Health Care Plan

17
18 A violation of the Act has been found in unilaterally implementing a health
19 care plan to comply with the Affordable Care Act. There was no insurance prior 20 to Respondents’ unilateral action. In this somewhat novel situation, the General
21 Counsel argues that, on request, Respondents rescind the unlawfully 22 implemented health care plan. It is unclear how Respondents could restore the 23 status quo ante – that is, no insurance at all – without depriving employees of 24

1 health insurance and running afoul of the Affordable Care Act. Thus, no
2 rescission order is recommended.⁸¹

4 It is recommended that, on request, Respondents be ordered to negotiate
5 with UFW regarding those items of the health insurance plan that allow for 6 discretion or flexibility. As far as a make whole remedy, none appears warranted
7 under the particular facts of this case. Prior to the unilateral change, Respondents
8 did not provide health insurance. It would therefore appear that no employee 9 could have been harmed by the unilateral implementation of health insurance.
10

12 On these findings of fact, conclusions of law, and the entire record, the 13 following order is recommended:
14

15 ORDER

in each language for the purposes set forth below.
- 19 (b) Mail signed copies of the attached Notice to the

- 24 (c) Grant ALRB agents access to work sites where the 25 agricultural employees in the above bargaining

under the Act outside the presence of supervisory personnel.

- 1 (d) Compensate employees for the time spent during

- 13 (f) Provide access during the notice-posting period to 14 ALRB agents to ensure compliance with the

- 16 (g) Provide a signed copy of the Notice to each person
17 it hired for work as an agricultural employee
18 during the 12-month period following the issuance
19 of the ALRB's Order in this case.
- 20 (h) Notify the Regional Director in writing within 21 thirty (30) days after the date of issuance of this
